Governor Cuomo Authorizes Schools in NY State to Reopen

Governor Cuomo last Friday, August 7, 2020 announced that New York's COVID-19 infection rate has stayed steady at below 1%. Assuming the State stays below 5%, schools can open.

Our Archdiocese Plan was submitted to the Department Health and the New York State Department of Education before July 31, 2020.

FAQs: Answers to Commonly Asked Questions

Thank you to all the parents who submitted questions last week. We will have all the questions and answers posted on our website FAQ's (under taskforce tab) by this Friday, August 14, 2020.

MASKS

Please see the attached information below on:

- Masks for Kids: How and Why
- My Mask Schedule

These documents will help you help your children adjust to mask wearing.

Technology

I know many of our families have lost power this past week; all parents should have received their child's Google account last week. Parents were also supplied with professional development videos through our google platform. Only 8 families have logged on. We encourage all parents to log on and become familiar with our platform.
